A Strong In Spirit Day Is Dawning Upon You...

Praise Report

Spring greetings to you in Jesus' name! I've been in an extended 'pray and seek' mode these last number of months, along with fighting through the most intense spiritual warfare I have ever experienced. God has been and continues to be faithful all the way through! While I had hoped to put out a prayer letter last Christmas, I sensed it wasn't the time yet, so I've held off until now.

Significantly the end of last year marks the end of 7 years of doing Strong In Spirit Ministry. The number '7' is a biblical number that signifies 'completion.' I believe a season has been completed in this ministry. Based on lots of prayer and seeking God, I've been sensing breakthrough is coming in 2012 in a variety of ways and I am calling forth favor with God and man for everything He wants to do. I'm not sure what all of that means or amounts to, but something is 'cooking' in God's oven, I'm just not sure what it is or when it'll be ready! But I'm calling it forth.

While I thank God for that, I also want to thank Him and you for your steadfast prayers for the selling of my home in Knoxville – a big answer to prayer! A young family bought it and closed on it March 1st – praise the Lord!! That helped free up some much needed resources. Thank You, Lord!

While a lot of the ministry has been quiet in these months, I've been able to share with a local church about deliverance ministry recently and am praying for favor there with the fellowship. I have also continued to do Transformation Ministry for individuals who request it, and recently ministered to an 11-year-old who had been pestering his parents for months to do TM. It was a joy to minister to him and we saw God break through in wonderful ways! I firmly believe the greatest gift that can be given a person, after a relationship with God and having loving parents, is being able to get significantly free and healed before the insanities of the teenage years begin. So much sin, evil and destruction can be avoided if one can get 'cleaned out' first!! In fact, nearly everyone I've put through Transformation Ministry has commented to me that they wished they had known about this decades before, which would likely have allowed them to escape abortions, destructive relationships, multiple divorces and all manner of years ignoring God instead of loving Him. Amen!

Prayer Needs

Please join with me now in prayer that the following requests would be met...

- † That doors will open for the sharing of the two Conference messages the Lord has given me as well as for the Spiritual Property Inspections ministry.
- † That many copies of the book, 'Living The Strong In Spirit Way' will be sent out and the message will spread far and wide and make it into the hands of those who need it most.
- † For funds to live on, pay ministry expenses and publish new books with.
- † For wisdom in dealing with people and for God to order my steps for His glory.
- † For many more faithful ministry advocates, financial supporters and intercessors for Strong In Spirit Ministries.

May God bless you and lead you for His glory! ALL His very best to you, Bruce
